TENNYSON'S LATEST.

NEW YORK, December 15 .- The Inde pendent has received by cable and will publish in its next issue two extracts from Tennyson's new volume. The first, which is reported to be one of the best of the EARLY SPRING

Till at thy chuckled note, then twinkling bird, The fairy fancies range And lightly stirred, Ring little bells of change from word to word. For now the heavenly power makes all things new, And thaws the cold and fills The flowers with dew: The blackbirds have their wills, The poets, too.

Tiresias.

The second extract is from the poem on Tiresias, which gives its name to the volume. Tiresias, while wandering in the forest happened to see Minerva bathing and was purished by the angry goddess with loss of his sight. The life of seven generations was accorded him, and his gift of prophecy, like Castandra's, was so cured that no one might believe him. [Tiresia speaks.] Then in my wand'rings all the lands that be Subjected to be Heliconian ridge Have heard this footstep fall, although my West more to scale the hights With some strange hope to see the nearer.

With some strange hope to see the nearer.

Nesser God.

Nesser God.

One naked peak, the sister of the sun.

Would climb from out t.e dark, and linger there.

To silver all the val eys with his shafts.

There once, but long ago, five time, thy term

Of years, I lay;

The woods were dead for heat,

The noonday erag made the land buril and sick

For shadow.

Not one bush was near.

Following a torrent, till its myriad falls

Pound silence in the hollows underneath.

There, in a secret olive, glad I saw

Fallas Athene climbing from the bath

In ener.

Pallas Athene climbing from the bath
In anger,
Yet one glittering foot disturbed
The laced well.
Cne smow knee was pressed,
Against the margin flowers:
A dreadful light came from her golden hair, her golden helm,
and all her golden armor on the grass,
Aud from her virgin breast and virgin eyes
Remaining fixed on mine, till mine graw dark.
Forever; and I heard a voices that said,
"Henceforth be blind," for thou has seen the much. much.

And speak the truth that no man may believe.

LABOR. NEW YORK, December 15 .- A streetconductor told a reporter resterday that all the conductors on the surf-ce roads of the city had agreed to strike for a raise of wages. "They have asked the different companies to pay them 22 50 a day," he continued. "and have given them to understand that a strike will take place unless this femand is conceded." At present the men on the Broadway cars get $2.25 a day, and the near on the other lines average only $2. on the other lines average only $2.

PITTSBURG, PA., December 15.—The National Convention of Coal Operators and Minors, called for the purpose of arbitrating the difficulties between the employer and employe and to establish matchal scate of wages, together with the cost of miners' supplies, which shall govern the operators and men in every mine in the United States, opened here at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Fifty delegates were present from Chio, Fennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia. HEARNE, TEX. December 15 .- The pra-HEARNR, TEX., December 15.—The practice adopted by its State Ponitentiary Board of farming out convicts to wealthy planters am kiring them to railway corporations has for several years been severely deprecated by the lubal element of the State. This feeling has been greatly anguented by recent assertions that the trison labor on the large plantations in the Branos buttom is to be increased in a few days to an importation of several nundred convicts. This has called out a manifesto from the citizans of Hearne, in which they declare that the importation of convicts is ruinous to the business interests of the town and laboring men of the community, and will not be tolerated.

PITTSBURG, PA., December 15.—There was no disturbance at Saltsburg this after on as reported. Brown & Co., s mines have been in operation two weeks, and as numerous strikers were seen in the neighborhood, trouble was feared and the sheriff was telegraphed to come up. He found everything quiet and returned to the city atonee. The officials of the Knights of Labor this afternoon presented Secretary Barrows of the Coal Exchange with a series of resolutions, adopted at a recent meeting, requesting a conference with the operators for the purpose of arbitrating their differences. Secretary Barrows says no action can be taken for several days, owing to the absence of several large mine owners.
